I have a questions about when vacation time is earned and available. I know that 2 pay checks ago (April 9th) I was credited with some vacation time, and I am curious I will be credited with more vacation time on my next paycheck (May 7th). If it is then, my next question is when is it available to be used? Do I have to wait until the 7th, or would it be available any day after the current pay period ends (May 1st)? I'm just curious since I am going on vacation next week and am not sure if I could just use vacation time, or if I will have to also use .5 hour personal time. Thank you for your help.

Respectfully,
